The Elections.

In Pennsylvania, though there is reduction in the Radicals; they have gained two members of Congress .-The delegation stands eighteen Radicals and six Conservatives. The Legislature is strongly Radical, which will insure the defeat of Senator Edgar A. Cowan. In Indiana the Legislature is largely Radical, and for Cengress, eight Radicals and three Conservatives. This is a Conservative gain of one. The Radicals' gained in Ohio eight thousand votes on the State ticket, the majority amounting to about 40,000. Sixteen Radicals were elected to Congress, and three Conservatives. This is a Conservative gain of one member of Congress. We have not seen complete returns from Iowa, but it is believed that the six Congressmen of that State are all Radicals. In the four > wife occupied the house No. 1504 Ohio street, was attacked with cholera on Monday night and died last evening. His wife dreading infection, or having no great amount of affection for her husband, immediately locked up the house and went off to some friends in another part of the city, leaving the body alone and uncared for in the dwelling. Some neighbors learned the fact and came at a late hour last night to the health office to ask to have the corpse removed and buried, but as the regulations requiring a physician to certify to the death had not been complied with, and, more-over, the undertaker had three interments to make during the night, the request could not then be granted, and corpse lies there this morning awaiting the last rites from strangs hands, which the hands of friends refused to give .- Chicago Tribune.
